Upon admissions into the program, members will be assigned a Health Home Team. The Health Home Team consists of a therapist, a primary care coordinator, a back-up care coordinator, and a peer support specialist (see Program Description section on Staffing). The Health Home Team is responsible for performing intake and annual assessments with the member, assisting the member in articulating goals, developing a person-centered plan of care, and providing the member with necessary support, assistance, and referrals. Members will also be assigned to a psychiatrist and a primary care provider (unless an external PCP has already been assigned). Care Coordinators ensure coordination between the behavioral, primary care, and specialty providers, regardless of whether a member receives primary care services internally or externally.

Care Coordinators maintain contact with members at least monthly (more if determined by the IPOS). Therapists and peer support specialists maintain contact with the member as determined by the IPOS, typically 1-4 times per month. Members receiving psychiatric medications will receive an initial psychiatric evaluation (as well as annually) and will be scheduled for follow-up with the psychiatrist on a monthly basis for a medication review. Some members may be scheduled more frequently with the psychiatrist if it is determined to be clinically necessary. Primary Care Providers will examine members at least annually (if receiving PCP services internally). Members with chronic health conditions will be monitored by a PCP at least quarterly, or more often if deemed clinically appropriate.

Members are typically discharged from the behavioral health home when they have met all of the goals outlined in their IPOS, or at their own discretion. TWC care coordinators will ensure a smooth transition into subsequent programming, primary care services, or follow-up care upon discharge.
